To Do List

As we head into another busy holiday season, our heads begin to swirl as we look at all the work there is to do. Holiday shopping, Christmas cards, parties to plan, parties to attend, concerts, extra worship services, and not to mention all the wrapping.

You seem to get an email or letter in the mail from every possible organization asking for end of year donations and gifts. What things do you look forward to each November?

It is doubtful, you are looking forward to less sleep and even less in your pocket book than ever before. Where do you find joy as things speed up around you?

Are you taking a moment to savor the gifts the Lord has to offer during this time. Oh, taste and see that the LORD is good! Blessed is the man who takes refuge in him! (Psalm 34:8). After what seems like the longest and hottest summer on record, we can savor God's mercy in cooler weather, rain showers, gatherings of friends and family, a warm cup of coffee, and the blessings afforded us through Jesus Christ, the assurance of eternal life to all those who believe in Jesus as their Savior.

Take a moment this week to savor the refuge God is during times of busyness.
