

Making an Eternal Difference - Globally

The Lutheran Student Center at the University of Texas at Arlington (UTA) reaches to more than 150 international students. It's a place where the students share meals and build relationships with members of area Lutheran congregations, and the Gospel proclaimed by word and deed.

The stories of transforming relationships are inspiring. Students from Hindu, Buddhist and Muslim backgrounds hear the Gospel without fear of retaliation from their communities and governments. The ends of the earth are coming to our institutions of higher learning; the students will become leaders in all sectors of government and business. They are making an eternal difference globally.

Susan Dorn has been named interim Director. She will work with the Board of Directors and students to continue and implement activities at the facility. The Student Center is open 5 days a week and has 70-150 students attend Friday evening. Exciting things are happening at UTA.

The students are engaged in the front line of mission and the devil does not like it one bit. They covet the prayers of all our readers

From left, Joy Cowan presented the check for "Expanding the Mission at UTA Lutheran Student Center" to Rev. Doug Widger and volunteers Donald and Sharon Alloy.

Lutheran Student Center at the University of Texas at Arlington.