

YOUNG WOMEN SKIT

(group of LWML ladies walk in together casually talking)

1st LWML Lady: I'm so glad I was able to come to the meeting tonight.

2nd LWML Lady: Me too, we have so much to do to get ready for the Christmas meeting. We could sure use some more help.

3rd LWML Lady: Well look at that! There's a young lady here tonight!

1st LWML Lady: It's about time we started getting some visitors . . . I have been advertising our meetings for the last several months!

(all three watch as the young lady begins to walk over)

Young Lady: Excuse me, is this the LWML meeting?

2nd LWML Lady: Yes it is . . .

Young Lady: Oh good. I wasn't sure where the meeting took place. I've seen it advertised the last several months, but it never said where the meeting was to be held. I've been looking all over the church.

(2nd and 3rd LWML Ladies look at the 1st LWML Lady)

1st LWML Lady (slightly irritated): Well, we have met in the same place now for 25 years . . .

(ignoring the Young Lady, the three LWML Ladies speak to themselves)

3rd LWML Lady: That's true except when we hold our annual banquet and then we don't meet in here . . .

2nd LWML Lady: Or when we have one of the Rallies – we don't have enough room in here for one of those; or the World Day of Prayer, because that's in the chapel.

3rd LWML Lady: Oh . . . and when we do our service projects we usually use the workroom – aren't we going over there tonight so we can finish those health kits?

Young Lady (interrupting): Did you say health kits? That's what I came for. It sounded like an awesome project and something I would like to be involved in!

1st LWML Lady: Yes, we are working on the health kits this evening, uh (hesitates) that will take place in the workroom . . .

2nd LWML Lady (again speaking to her friends): We probably should have mentioned that in the publicity.

3rd LWML Lady: Well next month when we work on those Christmas gifts for the retirement center (to the 1st LWML Lady) we should mention in the publicity that we will be in the workroom again.

Young Lady: Christmas gifts? I just love crafts. I have dozens of simple craft ideas I would be happy to share!

1st LWML Lady: That won't be necessary – we already have one in mind.

2nd LWML Lady (speaking to her friends): That Judy, she is so wonderful about coming up with those gift ideas year after year!

3rd LWML Lady: I know . . . and did you hear she was tired of being the Committee Chair for the Christmas crafts? She claims she is just out of ideas! I just don't know what we'll do without her!

1st LWML Lady: Oh I just can't believe it! We need to go speak with her right now . . .

(the three LWML Ladies exit speaking to themselves, leaving behind the Young Lady)

Young Lady (chasing after them): Excuse me, is this the way to the workroom?
